

Attachment B United Way of Norman Framework FY24-25 Education

Improving the academic achievement/success of at-risk children.

Applications for funding may encompass example indicators; however, they must include one of the following indicators:

- Number and percentage of children improving screening scores across developmental domains.
- Number and percentage of consistent attendance/participation in agency programs.
- Number and percentage of at-risk students successfully transitioning to the next grade level through graduation.

Community Goals:	Outcomes:	Example Strategies	Example Indicators:
School Readiness- Children enter school developmentally on track in the areas of language development, social/emotional development, and intellectual skills. Increase access to quality early care and education.	Parents demonstrate increased knowledge and use of best parenting practices. Increased number of children participating in quality early learning programs. Improved quality of early learning programs. Increased number of children demonstrating progress towards school readiness.	Provide evidence-based home-visiting services. Provide parent education and/or resources. Provide scholarships to low-income families. Offer programs at varied times/locations. Provide funding incentives for more qualified teachers. Provide professional development opportunities for childcare providers on the Early Learning Guidelines to help improve the quality of education the children are receiving. Provide developmental screenings to children served in early childhood programs.	#/% of parents/caregivers who demonstrate increased knowledge of best parenting practices. #/% of children enrolled in high quality early childhood education. #/% of childcare providers participating in professional development. #/% of children receiving regular comprehensive developmental screenings across domains.
Early Grade Success- Children will receive the resources needed to become strong readers.	Increased number of third- grade students who are proficient in reading	Provide professional development training to tutors on reading strategies. Provide professional development training on mentoring strategies.	#/% of students proficient in reading.

Early grade students will be provided quality out-of-school opportunities that reinforce and enhance learning. Children will receive the tutoring/mentoring necessary to be successful in school and life.	Increased number of children who are receiving tutoring and positive adult mentoring.	Provide case management for at risk students. Provide research-based tutoring and/or mentoring. Provide parent education/resources for parents of elementary students.	#/% of students showing positive academic growth. #/% of students showing positive social/emotional growth.
Middle School Success- Students successfully transition from grade school to middle school and from middle school to high school, with the academic and social/emotional skills needed to succeed.	Increased number of quality out-of-school opportunities that reinforce and enhance learning. Increased enrollment of atrisk middle grade students in supportive services. Increased family involvement and connections for middle grade students.	Identify middle grade students who are atrisk of poor academic outcomes and refer them to supportive services. Provide programs that encourage leadership skills and social skills. Provide parent education/resources for parents of middle grade students.	#/% of students successfully transitioning to high school. #/% of improved average daily attendance. #/% of reduction of referrals to office. #/% of students showing positive social/emotional growth. #/% of students participating in positive enrichment programs.
High school graduation Students will graduate from high school on time and career and/or college ready.	Increased number of young people graduating from high school on time with post-secondary goals. Increased number of young people showing improved change in behaviors/self-esteem.	Potential dropouts will be provided alternative ways to stay in school. At risk students will be provided mentoring opportunities with people in business. Children will be provided with positive enrichment programs. Provide opportunities for students and/or parents to explore college and/or career opportunities. Provide training for mentors.	#/% of students acquiring adequate credits to graduate on time. #/% of students participating in positive enrichment programs. #/% of students enrolling in post-secondary education.

Financial Stability

Promote Financial Stability among people with low income

Applications for funding may encompass example indicators; however, they must include one of the following indicators:

- Number and percentage of households increasing or maintaining their income through employment
- Number and percentage of households that receive the public and private income supports that are available to them
- Number and percentage of people increasing their knowledge or changing their behavior because of receiving financial education
- Number and percentage of people moving to stable housing (define stable)

Community Goals:	Outcomes:	Example Strategies	Example Indicators: #/%
	Intended Result
Families Sustaining Employment:	Increased access to	Small business development	People who develop a business plan
People with low-income gain	family/household sustaining	programs that help people with family/household sustaining	employment	low income develop part-time	People completing training employment		or full-time enterprises
	Increased enrollment in and		People who maintain employment for 90
What this means: People with low income	completion of degree, certification,	Connect people with low	days; 180 days are able to support their basic needs with the	and training programs	income with affordable and wages they earn		effective basic education,	People earning a living wage Increased supports to help	occupational training, and individuals obtain and retain	career technical education employment and advance their	programs to increase reading, careers	math, comprehension, and work-related skills
Income Supports: People with low	Increased utilization of public,	Awareness campaign of	People educated in outreach programs income take advantage of the public	private and income supports and	available income or work and private income supports and	subsidies that are available to them	supports through education	People applying for benefits
subsidies that are available to them		and outreach efforts Referrals made
What this means: People with low income		Streamline enrollment in who may qualify for public benefits such as SNAP, public housing or tax credits are		income supports	Applications made for support services applying for/accessing them to help make ends meet		Develop basic needs programs to fill existing community gaps Savings and Assets: People with low	Increased awareness and promotion	Conduct outreach to increase	People opening for savings account income have assets including financial	of the use of low-cost financial	the use of appropriate and assets to help them pay for	products and services to increase a	affordable financial products	People with at least $500 in emergency emergencies	savings for goals and other		savings unavoidable expenses, including	Promote and provide emergencies	appropriate products and

seve part of their income, responsed to save and one appropriate accounts into which to part their sovings additionally, people have the knowledge and resources to build assets that will help them break the cycle of poverty which make saving easy and automatic for people with low income, irregular income, or non-pay checked-based income income, irregular income, or non-pay checked-based income increased access to long-term savings avenues such as children's saving and asset building for people with low income use or purchase goods and services that are fairly priced and within their budget Manageable Expenses: People with low income for basic goods and services including point in reased products, and insurance then families with higher incomes. Increased products and services that eliminate structural barriers or appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase goods and services make the or purchase goods and services and counts and services and counts with now income the purchase goods and services and counts and services that ensure the products and systems that enable people with low income into an automatic for people with low income into make a single products and systems that enable people with low income working families are qualified to purchase financial products and services at low reads availability of and access to low-cost pools and services that enure that the purchase goods and services and counts and services at low reads availability of and access to low-cost pools and services that enure that the purchase goods and services that enure the face of the purchase goods and services and counts and services at low rates increased availability of and access to low-cost or non-punitively priced products and services at low rates increased availability of and access to low-cost or non-pun			-	7
and have appropriate accounts into which to save and build assets that will help them break the cycle of poverty the knowledge and resources to build assets that will help them break the cycle of poverty the knowledge and resources to build assets that will help them break the cycle of poverty the knowledge and resources to build assets that will help them break the cycle of poverty that make saving easy and automatic for people with low income, irregular income, or non-pay checked-based income increased access to long-term savings avenues such as children's savings avenues with a matched savings program				#/% of persons opening matched savings save and build assets that will help them break the cycle of powerty the knowledge and resources to build assets that will help them break the cycle of powerty income, irregular income, or non-pay checked-based income increased access to long-term savings accounts, college savings accounts and retirement accounts increased inance that paint prices that are fairly priced and within their budget what this means: Because of the neighborhood they live in, credit history, or lock of access to intrusty products, and services, financial services, credit appropriate consumer education will assets in that will help them break the cycle of powerty that will help them break the cycle of powerty that will help them break the cycle of powerty which make saving easy and automatic for people with low income, irregular income, or non-pay checked-based income increased access to long-term savings avenues such as children's savings accounts, iffelong learning accounts, college savings accounts and retirement accounts increased financial management knowledge and skills on topics including bill paying, cash flow management and budgeting budgeting paying for eight access to live access to including bill paying, cash flow management and budgeting budgeting products, and insurance than families with higher incomes. Increased financial management income vital paying, cash flow management and budgeting budget increased expense to income ratio live the products, and insurance than families with higher incomes. Increased financial management incurred the products and services, framcial services, credit products, and insurance than families with higher incomes. Increased income vital payorpriate consumer education will appropriate and investment the products, and insurance than families are		· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	savings	accounts the knowledge and resources to build assets that will help them break the cycle of poverty which make saving easy and automatic for people with low income, irregular income, or non-pay checked-based income savings avenues such as children's savings avenues such as children's savings accounts, lifelong learning accounts, college savings accounts and retirement accounts with low income with programs are fairly priced and within their budget Manageable Expenses: People with low income use or purchase goods and services that are fairly priced and within their budget What this means: Because of the neighborhood they like in, creal history, or lock of access to Increased access to Increased expense to income pay more for bosic goods and services. Increasing people with how-income with higher incomes. Increasing the ovalability of and access to low-cost goods and services and access to low-cost goods and services that entry purchase goods and services and access to low-cost goods and services and access to low-cost goods and services that they purchase goods and services and access to low-cost goods and services that they purchase goods and services are goods and services that they purchase goods and services that they purchase goods and services are goods and services t		enable people with low income to Increased products and services which make saving easy and automatic for people with low income, irregular income, or non-pay checked-based income Increased access to long-term savings avenues such as children's savings avenues such as children's savings avenues such as children's saving and asset building for people with low income use or purchase goods and services that are fairly priced and within their budget What this means: Because of the neighborhood they live in, credit history, or lock of access to income of products, and insurance than families with higher incomes. Increasing the availability of and access to low-cost goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education with ensure that they purchase goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education with ensure that they purchase goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer and possibility of and access to low-cost goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase goods and services that certain people with low-income with appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase financial increased availability of and access to low-cost goods and services that entry appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase financial increased availability of and access to low-cost goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase financial increased availability of and access to low-cost goods and services that entry appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase financial increased availability of and access to low-cost goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purcha		save and build assets		#/% of people educated in financial which make saving easy and automatic for people with low income, irregular income, or non-pay checked-based income Increased access to long-term savings avenues such as children's savings accounts, lifelong learning accounts, college savings accounts and retirement accounts Improved public and private policies that eliminate structural barriers to saving and asset building from people with low income use or purchase goods and services that are fairly priced and within their budget What this means: Because of the neighborhood they live in, credit history, or lock of occess to transportation, people with home poop may how income use or purchase goods and services that engroudets, and insurance than families with higher incomes. Increasing the availability of and access to long-term shared and coansecting people with low-income with proper goods and services that come access to long-term shared and coansecting people with low-income with proper goods and services and access to long-term savings and investment behavior using public and private incontives such as refundable tax credits and matched savings accounts when the provide people with low-income for people with low-income for people with low-income with programs that help them reduce their debt and improve their credit scores Improved processes that ensure low-income with programs that help them reduce their debt and improve their credit scores Improved processes that ensure low-income with programs that help them reduce their debt and improve their credit scores Improved processes that ensure low-income working families are qualified to purchase financial products and services at low rates of the properties	_			education automatic for people with low income, irregular income, or non-pay checked-based income Increased access to long-term savings accounts, college savings accounts and retirement accounts Improved public and private policies that eliminate structural barriers to saving and asset building for people with low income Increased be Expenses: People with low income use or purchase goods and services that are fairly priced and within their budget What this means: Because of the neighborhood they live in, credit history, or lock of access to transportation, people with low-income often pay more for basic goods and services, an including processes that ensure low-income working families are qualified to purchase goods and services to low-cost goods and services and occass to low-cost goods and services that are proportate consumer education with growth incomes. Increasing people with low-income working families are qualified to purchase financial products and services at low rates they purchase goods and services that are purchase goods and services that are proportate consumer education with growth income with growth income working families are qualified to purchase financial products and services at low rates thoreased availability of and access to low-cost goods and services that are low-income working families are qualified to purchase financial products and services at low rates thoreased availability of and access to low-cost goods and services that are low-income working families are qualified to purchase financial products and services at low rates there are qualified to purchase for the purchase goods and services that are low-income working families are qualified to purchase financial products and services at low rates to low-cost or non-punitively priced to low-income working families are qualified to purchase for low-income working fami	that will help them break the cycle of poverty	Increased products and services	investment restricted to income, irregular income, or non-pay checked-based income Increased access to long-term savings accounts, lifelong learning accounts, college savings accounts and retirement accounts Improved public and private policies that eliminate structural barriers to saving and asset building for people with low income Improved public and private policies that eliminate structural barriers to saving and asset building for people with low income Improved public and private policies that eliminate structural barriers to saving and asset building for people with low income use or purchase goods and services that are fairly priced and services that are fairly priced and within their budget What this means: Because of the neighborhood they live in, credit scores of the neighborhood they live in, credit scores of transportation, people with low-income often poy more for bosic goods and services, financial services, financial services, from the province of the neighborhood they live in, creasing the avoilability of and access to low-cost goods and services and connecting people with low-income working families are qualified to purchase financial products and services at low rates Increasing the avoilability of and access to low-cost goods and services and connecting people with low-income working families are qualified to purchase financial products and services at low rates Increased availability of and access to low-cost goods and services and they purchase goods and services that are to low-cost or non-puritively priced and access to low-cost or non-puritively priced and access to low and services that are to low-cost or non-puritively priced and access to low and services that are to low-cost or non-puritively priced and access to low-cost or non-puritivel		which make saving easy and	building financial or productive	#/% of persons applying for EITC
pay checked-based income Increased access to long-term savings avenues such as children's savings accounts, filefoling learning accounts, college savings accounts and retirement accounts Improved public and private policies that eliminate structural barriers to saving and asset building for people with low income use or purchase goods and services that are fairly priced and within their budget What this means: Because of the neighborhood they live in, credit history, or lack of pacess to pay more for basic goods and services, including proceries, financial services, credit products, and insurance than families with higher income with programs connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer duction will ensure that they purchase goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer duction will ensure that they purchase goods and services that are fairly priced and within their budget What this means: Because of the neighborhood they live in, credit history, or lack of pacess to pay more for basic goods and services, including groceries, financial services, credit products, and insurance than families with products and services and access to low-cost goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer duction will ensure a qualified to purchase financial products and services at low rates increasing people with low-income with appropriate consumer duction will ensure a qualified to purchase financial products and services at low rates increased availability of and access to low-cost goods and services and consumer duction will ensure a qualified to purchase financial products and services at low rates increased availability of and access to low-cost goods and services and consumer duction will ensure a qualified to purchase financial products and services at low rates increased availability of and access to low-cost goods and services and to low-cost or non-punitively priced in low-income with programs that help them reduce their debt and			assets Increased access to long-term savings avenues such as children's savings accounts, lifelong learning accounts, college savings accounts and retirement accounts Improved public and private policies that eliminate structural barriers to saving and asset building for people with low income use or purchase goods and services that are fairly priced and within their budget What this means: Because of the neighborhood they live in, credit history, or lack of access to proporpiete consumer education as services. Increased in evaluability of and access to low-cost goods and services and econsecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education wille nsure that families with paper promote consumer education will ensure that they purchase goods and services that are they purchase goods and services and connecting people with low-income with and private incentives such as refundable tax credits and matched savings accounts and Increased access to long-term savings avenues such as children's savings accounts, college savings accounts and retirement accounts Improved public and private policies that eliminate structural barriers to saving and asset building for people with low income use or purchase goods and services that are fairly priced and within their budget What this means: Because of the neighborhood they live in, credit history, or lack of access to transportation, people with low-income often products, and insurance than families with higher incomes. Increasing the availability of and access to low-cost goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education will ensure happropriate consumer education will ensure low-income working families are qualified to purchase financial products and services at low races and access to to low-cost or non-punitively priced in the purchase goods and services that are solved the purchase goods and services that are solved the purchase goods and services that are solved the purchase goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education will ensure low-income working families are qualified to purchase financial products and services at low races and evaluability of and access to to low-cost or non-punitively priced in the purchase goods and services that are low-income working families are qualified to purchase financial products and services at low races and evaluability of and access to to low-cost or non-punitively priced in the purchase goods and services that are low-income working families are qualified to purchase financial products and services at low races and evaluability of and access to to low-cost or non-punitively priced in the purchase such as refundable tax credits and matched savings accounts and mat		pay checked-based income savings avenues such as children's savings accounts, lifelong learning accounts, college savings accounts and retirement accounts Improved public and private policies that eliminate structural barriers to saving and asset building for people with low income Manageable Expenses: People with low income Improved public and private policies that eliminate structural barriers to saving and asset building for people with low income Increased financial management knowledge and skills on topics including bill paying, cash flow management and budgeting What this means: Because of the neighborhood they live in, credit history, or lack of access to transportation, people with low-income often pay more for basic goads and services, including groceries, financial services, credit products, and insurance than families with higher incomes. Increasing the availability of and access to low-cost goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase goods and services that are that they purchase goods and services at low-case on the products and services at low-case availability of and access to low-cost or non-punitively priced and convenient and services at low-case or the products and services at low-case devices at low-case or the products and services at low-case or t savings accounts, college savings accounts and matched savings accounts an		Increased access to long-term accounts, college savings accounts and retirement accounts Improved public and private policies that eliminate structural barriers to saving and asset building for people with low income use or purchase goods and services that are fairly priced and within their budget What this means: Because of the neighborhood they live in, credit history, or lock of access to including grozeries, financial services, and insurance than families with higher incomes. Increasing the availability of and access to low-cost goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase goods and services that are in the products and services at the they purchase goods and services that are in the products and services at the they purchase goods and services that are in the products and services at the they purchase goods and services that are in the products and services at the control of the products and services at the they purchase goods and services that are in the products and services at the control of the products and services at the control of the products and services at the prod		_
Improved public and private policies that eliminate structural barriers to saving and asset building for people with low income Manageable Expenses: People with low income Increased financial management knowledge and skills on topics including bill paying, cash flow management and budgeting What this means: Because of the neighborhood they live in, credit history, or lock of access to transportation, people with low-income often pay more for basic goads and services, including groceries, financial services, including groceries, financial services, and insurance than families with higher incomes. Increasing the availability of and access to low-cost goads and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education will newsre that they purchase goads and services that are fairly priced and without their budget Increased financial management knowledge and skills on topics including bill paying, cash flow management and budgeting Decreased expense to income ratio Increased credit scores Connect people with low income with programs that help them reduce their debt and improve their credit scores Improved processes that ensure low-income working families are qualified to purchase financial products and services at low rates appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase goods and services that are			and matched savings accounts
Improved public and private policies that eliminate structural barriers to saving and asset building for people with low income Manageable Expenses: People with low income Increased financial management knowledge and skills on topics including bill paying, cash flow management and budgeting What this means: Because of the neighborhood they live in, credit history, or lack of access to transportation, people with low-income often pay more for basic goods and services, including groceries, financial services, credit products, and insurance than families with higher incomes. Increasing the availability of and access to low-cost goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase goods and services that are Improved public and private policies that dree with low income kincome Provide people with low-income financial education information #/% persons with a lower expense to income ratio income with programs that help them reduce their debt and improve their credit scores #/% persons with a lower expense to income ratio income ratio income ratio Connect people with low income with programs that help them reduce their debt and improve their credit scores #/% persons with a lower expense to income ratio #/% persons improving their credit scores
that eliminate structural barriers to saving and asset building for people with low income Manageable Expenses: People with low income use or purchase goods and services that are fairly priced and within their budget Mhat this means: Because of the neighborhood they live in, credit history, or lack of access to transportation, people with low-income often pay more for basic goods and services, including graceries, financial services, credit products, and insurance than families with higher incomes. Increasing the availability of and access to low-cost goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase goods and services that are that eliminate structural barriers to saving and asset building for people with low income with low income Provide people with low- income financial education information #/% persons with a lower expense to income ratio Connect people with low income with help them reduce their debt and improve their credit scores Improved processes that ensure low-income with appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase goods and services that are that eliminate structural barriers to saving and asset building for people with low-income with now income financial education information #/% persons with a lower expense to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #//% persons improving their credit scores #//% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #//% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #//% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #//% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #//% persons improving their credit scores #//% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #//% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #//% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #//% persons with a lower debt to inco		and retirement accounts
that eliminate structural barriers to saving and asset building for people with low income Manageable Expenses: People with low income use or purchase goods and services that are fairly priced and within their budget Mhat this means: Because of the neighborhood they live in, credit history, or lack of access to transportation, people with low-income often pay more for basic goods and services, including graceries, financial services, credit products, and insurance than families with higher incomes. Increasing the availability of and access to low-cost goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase goods and services that are that eliminate structural barriers to saving and asset building for people with low income with low income Provide people with low- income financial education information #/% persons with a lower expense to income ratio Connect people with low income with help them reduce their debt and improve their credit scores Improved processes that ensure low-income with appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase goods and services that are that eliminate structural barriers to saving and asset building for people with low-income with now income financial education information #/% persons with a lower expense to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #//% persons improving their credit scores #//% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #//% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #//% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #//% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #//% persons improving their credit scores #//% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #//% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #//% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #//% persons with a lower debt to inco Manageable Expenses: People with low income Manageable Expenses: People with low income Increased financial management knowledge and skills on topics including bill paying, cash flow management and budgeting What this means: Because of the neighborhood they live in, credit history, or lack of access to transportation, people with low-income often pay more for basic goods and services, including groceries, financial services, and insurance than families with higher incomes. Increasing the availability of and access to low-cost goods and services and oppropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase goods and services that are to low-cost or non-punitively priced Increased financial management knowledge and skills on topics including and services that low-income with low-income with low-income with low-income often pay more for basic goods and services and connecting people with low-income with low-income with and products and services at low rates low-cost or non-punitively priced Increased financial management knowledge and skills on topics including and services to low-cost or non-punitively priced Provide people with low-income financial education information #/% persons with a lower expense to income ratio income with low-income with programs that help them reduce their debt and improve their credit scores #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to inco Manageable Expenses: People with low income Manageable Expenses: People with low income use or purchase goods and services that are fairly priced and within their budget What this means: Because of the neighborhood they live in, credit history, or lack of access to transportation, people with low-income often pay more for basic goods and insurance than families with higher incomes. Increasing the availability of and access to low-cost goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase goods and services that are with low income Increased financial management knowledge and skills on topics including bill paying, cash flow management and budgeting Decreased expense to income ratio Tonnect people with low income with programs that help them reduce their debt and improve their credit scores Improved processes that ensure low-income working families are qualified to purchase financial products and services at low rates lncreased availability of and access to low-cost goods and services that are To vide people with low-income financial education information #/% persons with a lower expense to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons improving their credit scores #/% persons improving their credit scores #/% persons improving their credit scores Manageable Expenses: People with low income use or purchase goods and services that are fairly priced and within their budget What this means: Because of the neighborhood they live in, credit history, or lack of access to transportation, people with low-income often pay more for basic goods and services, including groceries, financial services, credit products, and insurance than families with higher incomes. Increasing the availability of and access to low-cost goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase goods and services that are Increased financial management knowledge and skills on topics including bill paying, cash flow management and budgeting Provide people with low-income financial education /financial capability Connect people with low income with programs that help them reduce their debt and improve their credit scores Improved processes that ensure low-income working families are qualified to purchase financial products and services at low rates low-cost goods and services and services at low rates that they purchase goods and services that are Increased financial management knowledge and skills on topics income financial education /financial capability // Connect people with low-income with programs that help them reduce their debt and improve their credit scores #// Persons with a lower debt to income ratio #// Persons improving their credit scores #// Persons improving their credit scores #// Persons improving their credit scores #// Persons with a lower debt to income ratio income valience income ratio income with programs that help them reduce their debt and improve their credit scores #// Persons with a lower debt to income ratio income valience incom low income use or purchase goods and services that are fairly priced and within their budget What this means: Because of the neighborhood they live in, credit history, or lack of access to transportation, people with low-income often pay more for basic goods and services, including groceries, financial services, credit products, and insurance than families with higher incomes. Increasing the availability of and access to low-cost goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase goods and services that are knowledge and skills on topics income financial education /financial capability management and budgeting Connect people with low income with programs that help them reduce their debt and improve their credit scores Improved processes that ensure low-income working families are qualified to purchase financial products and services at low rates lncreased availability of and access to low-cost goods and services that are Increased availability of and access to low-cost or non-punitively priced Increased skills on topics income financial education /financial capability Connect people with low income with programs that help them reduce their debt and improve their credit scores #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons improving their credit scores #/% persons improving their credit scores services that are fairly priced and within their budget What this means: Because of the neighborhood they live in, credit history, or lack of access to transportation, people with low-income often pay more for basic goods and services, including groceries, financial services, credit higher incomes. Increasing the availability of and access to low-cost goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase goods and services that are including bill paying, cash flow management and budgeting /financial capability /financial capability #/% persons with a lower expense to income ratio income with help them reduce their debt and improve their credit scores #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower expense to income ratio #/% persons with a lower expense to income ratio #/% persons with a lower expense to income ratio #/% persons with a lower expense to income ratio #/% persons with a lower expense to income ratio #/% persons with a lower expense to income ratio #/% persons with a lower expense to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio		_	· ·	• within their budget management and budgeting What this means: Because of the neighborhood they live in, credit history, or lack of access to transportation, people with low-income often pay more for basic goods and services, including groceries, financial services, credit products, and insurance than families with higher incomes. Increasing the availability of and access to low-cost goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase goods and services that are management and budgeting Connect people with low income with help them reduce their debt and improve their credit scores Improved processes that ensure low-income working families are qualified to purchase financial products and services at low rates low-cost goods and services that are management and budgeting Connect people with low income with help them reduce their debt and improve their credit scores #/% persons with a lower expense to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower expense to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income value income with help them reduce their debt and improve their credit scores #/% persons with a lower debt to income value income with help them reduce their debt and improve their credit scores #/% persons with a lower debt to income value i	•	knowledge and skills on topics	income financial education	information
What this means: Because of the neighborhood they live in, credit history, or lack of access to transportation, people with low-income often pay more for basic goods and services, including groceries, financial services, credit higher incomes. Increasing the availability of and access to low-cost goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase goods and services that are incomes and budgeting Connect people with low income with programs that help them reduce their debt and improve their credit scores #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons with a lower debt to income ratio #/% persons improving their credit scores #//* persons improving their cr	1	including bill paying, cash flow	/financial capability	#/% persons with a lower expense to
What this means: Because of the neighborhood they live in, credit history, or lack of access to transportation, people with low-income often pay more for basic goods and services, including groceries, financial services, credit products, and insurance than families with higher incomes. Increasing the availability of and access to low-cost goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase goods and services that are	within their budget	management and budgeting
they live in, credit history, or lack of access to transportation, people with low-income often pay more for basic goods and services, including groceries, financial services, credit higher incomes. Increasing the availability of and access to low-cost goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase goods and services that are transportation, people with low-income often lncreased expense to income ratio income with programs that help them reduce their debt and improve their credit scores "#/% persons with a lower debt to income with help them reduce their debt and improve their credit scores "#/% persons improving their credit s	What this means: Because of the neighborhood		Connect people with low	income ratio transportation, people with low-income often pay more for basic goods and services, including groceries, financial services, credit products, and insurance than families with higher incomes. Increasing the availability of and access to low-cost goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase goods and services that are help them reduce their debt and improve their credit scores #/% persons improving their credit scores including groceries, financial services and improve their credit scores #/% persons improving their credit scores #/% persons improving their credit scores #/% persons improving their credit scores Increased availability of and access to low-cost goods and services at low rates Increased availability of and access to low-cost or non-punitively priced	-	Decreased expense to income ratio		#/% persons with a lower debt to income pay more for basic goods and services, including groceries, financial services, credit products, and insurance than families with higher incomes. Increasing the availability of and access to low-cost goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase goods and services that are				•
higher incomes. Increasing the availability of and access to low-cost goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase goods and services that are		Increased credit scores	and improve their credit scores
higher incomes. Increasing the availability of and access to low-cost goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase goods and services that are	including groceries, financial services, credit			#/% persons improving their credit scores and access to low-cost goods and services and connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase goods and services that are qualified to purchase financial products and services at low rates Increased availability of and access to low-cost or non-punitively priced	products, and insurance than families with	1 ' '
connecting people with low-income with appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase goods and services that are to low-cost or non-punitively priced		_ appropriate consumer education will ensure that they purchase goods and services that are to low-cost or non-punitively priced		· that they purchase goods and services that are to low-cost or non-punitively priced		i · to to the desired participation of persons and the second participation of the second		•
jumy priced and within their budget. products and services		1
	Juny priced and within their budget.	products and services

Affordable Housing: People with low	Increased access to transitional and	Help people with low income	#/% of families moving from transitional income have access to affordable	supportive housing	to navigate application process	housing to permanent housing housing as well as services that		for affordable housing prevent them from losing housing	Decrease homelessness		#/% of families still in permanent housing Support programs to help	after 6 months
What this means: People can access	Increased supply of affordable	people with low income meet affordable housing because there is adequate	housing	requirements to rent or supply of affordable housing and have access		purchase safe, affordable to services that can prevent them from losing	Decreased number of people losing	housing affordable housing	affordable housing due to nonpayment of rent or lack of utility	Promote tax credits and first-payments.	time buyer programs, when payments	appropriate, that increase affordability of homeownership
Affordable Child Care: People with		for people with low income low income have access to affordable	Increased number of affordable childcare.	childcare programs.	Connect people with low cinidedre.		income with targeted
What this means: Low-income households are	Families can maintain or secure jobs	education on buying and able to access affordable child care so that	because of access to affordable	maintaining a house to help they can secure employment and/or stay	childcare.	them access appropriate and employed.		affordable mortgage supports Connect people with low	#/% of individuals/families with increased income to foreclosure	income due to affordable childcare mediation and loan modification programs.
		Protect people with low income from unfair evictions Connect families with an array Connect families with programs
	Ingressed against the management of the	providing affordable childcare.
Accesible Transportations Decarle	Increased access to transportation.	Connect people with programs	H/O/ of individuals/fourill
Accessible Transportation: People		that help them either maintain	#/% of individuals/families with increased with low income have access to		or access transportation.	income due to access to transportation transportation.
What this means: Low-income households have the ability to get help with maintaining or accessing transportation to get to a job.

Health

All children and adults are mentally and physically healthy in a safe and independent environment Applications for funding may encompass example indicators; however, they must include one of the following indicators:

- Number and percent of youth and adults receiving healthcare services (including health, mental health, dental and counseling)
- Number and percent of youth or adults reporting changes in physical activity or nutritional knowledge
- Number and percent of youth and adults preventing or changing risky behaviors based on mental, wellness and addiction services provided
- Number and percent of youth and adults receiving services to attain or maintain a safe environment and/or healthy relationships
- Number and/or percentage of services provided meets the individual needs and contributes to their independence and the ability to stay in a home setting

Community Goals:	Outcomes:	Example Strategies:	Example Indicators: %/#
	Intended Result
Access to health care: Adults and children with limited income are able to get affordable and equitable mental, medical and dental care in a timely manner.	Connect underserved adults and children to existing health care resources. Ensure that all children and adults can receive appropriate and coordinated health care services. Increase the availability of annual well checks for underserved children and adults. Improve access to quality mental health care services.	Provide and promote opportunities for access to medical/dental and mental health services. Provide access to educational information regarding drug and alcohol abuse. Connect patients to existing health care services. Promote the coordination of health services delivery and care for chronic diseases. Encourage free or low-cost providers to develop and partner with other agencies for health care delivery capacity in our community. Provide families of babies and pre-school children with services they need to meet their developmental and nutritional needs. Support programs for health and safety education.	Individuals and families accessing medical care Adults and children receiving regular well checks Adults and children receiving mental health counseling and support services Patients receiving dental care Individuals working with client navigators Nonemergency visits to local emergency care facilities Community savings through reduced use of unneeded emergency services The number of people who are enrolled in health insurance programs.

Community Goals:	Outcomes:	Example Strategies:	Example Indicators:
-	Intended Result	-	%/#
Healthy eating and physical activity
	Increase healthy choices for	Increase in physical activity	Children and adults classified as obese
Adults and children maximize their	eating and physical activity potential for a healthy productive	in schools, after school	Increase in fruit and vegetable consumption	Access to nutritious foods (venues and life with reduced chances of	programs, and		methods) chronic disease by making healthy	neighborhoods.	Decrease in consumption of sugary drinks choices.		and snacks	Reporting increases in physical activity Increase the community's knowledge about healthy	Increase access to healthy and affordable	Reporting increases of nutritional foods.	food/drinks in neighborhoods where they	knowledge might be difficult to obtain Modify behaviors toward		Individuals and families accessing food and access to healthy foods.	Increase the availability of physical activities	bank services and recreational spaces in neighborhoods to Support education for adults	support daily exercise.	Types and quantities of foods available and children regarding the		from food banks benefits of regular physical	Promote awareness of local resources for activity.	daily physical and recreational activities	Evidence of change in availability of time for physical activity Implement a wellness policy including tobacco free, alcohol free, drug free, physical activity and nutrition components.
		Increase in physical activity and/or nutritional knowledge.
		Creating awareness of mindful eating.

Community Goals:	Outcomes:	Example Strategies:	Example Indicators:
	Intended Result		%/#
Healthy Lifestyle:		Increase access to family and individual	Children and adults decreasing their use
Adults and children maximize their potential for mental	Reduce the misuse of alcohol and other drugs and addictions.	drug counseling sessions	of alcohol and other drugs
wellness and safety.	S .	Support education regarding	Children and adults receiving education
	Improve the community awareness and understanding of addiction risks and the nature of	consequences of addictions, for both addicts and their families	on the misuse of alcohol, drugs and other addictions
	mental health and substance abuse.	Seek increased capacity for individual and group counseling and support services in the community	Children who identify/describe appropriate behavioral choices
	Increase access to and utilization	·	Adults and children reached through of quality counseling and support	Encourage the development of early	prevention education programs and services for adults and children.	intervention programs that reach underserved parents of babies and	support services
	Increase readiness for mental health and addiction services.	toddlers.	Licensed treatment professionals working in the community Promote community support for	, intervention and emergency services for individuals and families in crisis.	Children and adults feel a sense of hope for the future.
		Implement a wellness policy including tobacco free, alcohol free, drug free, physical activity and nutrition components.
		Improving sense of self-worth of individuals.

Safe home and community

The community maximizes services to prevent or reduce exposure of adults and children to violence and injuries.

Ensure that children and adults live in and help maintain safe environments and healthy relationships.

Support children and adults with the services they need to feel safe.

Encourage and support emergency services for adults and children in crisis because of physical, sexual or emotional violence/abuse.

Identify and promote facilities and resources for community safety in times of crisis.

Reduce incidence and impact of child abuse and neglect.

Provide safe out of school environments for children.

Support domestic violence and sexual violence intervention and prevention programs.

Coordinate emergency planning for local disasters

Provide disaster relief to the victims of emergencies.

Educate public about rate of incidence of domestic violence and sexual violence.

Support efforts to increase the availability of crisis counseling and ongoing supportive services for children, individuals and families affected by violence and/or loss.

Assist the community in identifying safe resources.

Encourage development of peer support programs in schools to identify and prevent threatening behaviors and violence.

Parent psychoeducation and support to reduce abuse and neglect and promote positive parenting.

Individual and family therapy for children and youth impacted by trauma of abuse and neglect.

Families seeking and utilizing safe environments

Children and adults and families receiving supports for the impacts of disasters

Types/venues of support provided to families

Children attending safe out-of-school programs

Children/families/individuals reporting and treating sexual violence/neglect

Adults and children reporting domestic violence in their households

Adults and families receiving aid for disasters

Parents show increase in knowledge and use of positive parenting practices.

Children and youth show decrease in challenging and high-risk behaviors and increase in pro-social behaviors.

Healthy Independence	Increase in-home and community	Provide adult day services that offer a	People cared for through residential supports that promotes people to	safe and enriching environment	programs
Senior adults and persons with disabilities will strive for and/or maintain their independence.	remain in a home setting Increase activities that keep	Deliver meals to the homes of seniors and people with disabilities	Persons assisted with adult day enrichment
Seniors and persons with disabilities can stay in a home	seniors and persons with disabilities engaged in their	Provide housekeeping services	Home meals delivered
setting.	community	Offer respite services to caregivers	People receiving meals
Seniors and persons with disabilities are less isolated.	Increase accessibility to transportation	Provide accessible transportation	Caregivers getting the support they need
Seniors and persons with disabilities have access to	Provide financial scholarships for low-income seniors and people	Provide financial scholarships for low-income seniors and people with	Caregivers receiving education on federal/state/community resources
transportation.	with disabilities	disabilities	People receiving housekeeping services
	Encourage and promote daily activities that provide social		Persons assisted by adult day enrichment interaction		People receiving financial scholarships
	Reduce financial barrier to increase access to adult day		Adults participating in social activities services		Rides provided to seniors and people with disabilities

Adults provided transportation services